SONIC's Message

Any veteran of FEAR knows that January was not a good time for the clan. Along with being passed by RAT only months before, a mass leave took place leaving many projects that were in the works left in the dust. While progress was sparked throughout those first few months of the new year, many believe that most of this progress has come to a halt. On the fourth of April, 2015, SONIC released a message to FEAR through the FEARMeeting account. He gave thanks for everyone who has stuck through these recent times and foreshadowed a new generation of High Command. After talking to SONIC a bit through skype it became evident that he has a new strategy to picking higher-up...

...ranks. He has taken a more personal approach, meeting with MRs individually and questioning them about their motives, goals, and achievements in FEAR. Colonel Dertixz a result of this new strategy. Dertixz received mixed, but generally positive reviews in the May HCOM Reviews, although it won't be until a few months in the future that we will see if this new strategy will be effective. After asking him about the types of questions asked by SONIC and Ace, he said that they asked him things such as, "What do you want to accomplish in HCOM" (Dertixz, 2015). This message should heed a warning to the current HCOM members, however: Act as your rank or face demotion. You can and will be replaced if necessary.

Future Fiasco?

With General Bakugan11 as the new Director of Training, many reforms of the training process has already been put into place. The biggest place of reform, however, has been the FEAR Military Academy. The biggest change between Disav0w's era and Bakugan11's era is the field training. Graduates of the academy must earn points through hosting events before they are voted on for Officer in HCOM. This section of the academy has been under much scrutiny lately. Many believe that Supervisors are not properly monitoring trainings, and if this is the case, then FMA will no doubt encounter lots of trouble in the future. One leader for change in FMA is Mallard, who believes FMA needs to go under radical reform. This included broader focuses on classes and monitoring the activities of supervisors. There was lots of support in this proposal, although, nothing has come of it yet. One thing's for certain though: the future of FMA will determine the future leaders of FEAR.

Divisions

A New Beginning

Many have considered FEAR's Military Police to be a failed division during the 2014 year, however with new ownership, a new era is beginning to emerge. A new set of FEAR rules have been introduced, although not yet authorized. With MP trainings currently in progress, one seeing MP giving a warning to a FEAR member will be a common occurrence once again. This new generation of crimefighters will be enforcing these new rules, so watch out trolls, your reign over FEAR will be no more.

What a Win!

On May 25, at 6 PM EST, the scrimmage between Replica Forces and HAU began. Replica Force's sword fighting platoon took on HAU with ease. The platoon, led by Chloedowning08, stepped on the field with no doubt in mind of getting a win.

We quickly blew them out of the water in the scrimmage, winning all three rounds in a row. Great job all SF platoon members, that was one heck of a win!

Change of Pace

One of the most prized divisions of FEAR is ATC. Managed by SONIC's brother, SHADOW, the division has made some amazing pieces of work in the past such as Sunset City, Welcome to Venezia, and the new recruit course. While Alianor III hasn't been released yet, the group is quickly fastening their pace. New scripters have been found, facilities are planned, and even a database is in the works! More exciting, however, is the progress on Azura. With new terrain, SHADOW is extremely excited for its release! Replacing the executive branch of ATC is DrCherryTop. DCT has many more plans for ATC, and is excited to make them a reality.

Technology

Azura Sneak Peak

Known as Project "Shush," Azura is an innovative delay from the legendary Alianor III. Being a completely rebuilt and re-scripted version of FEAR's underwater base from 2010, SHADOW has jumped into territory unpaved by traditional C&G forts. SHADOW says that Azura will scale back on the scripting side, which prevented Alianor III's release, but focus on the building, which he says is just as detailed, if not more. He hopes for the fort to be out soon, although no date has been given yet. The existence of this project has been known to the public since the beginning of April, released through a YouTube teaser trailer. A more comprehensive trailer is supposedly being released before the fort comes out, but in the short time the public has known about the project, it has already gained the respect of much of C&G and was even tweeted about by ROBLOX! One of the most exciting things to come with this new fort, however, are new guns. Many have criticised the current G2A2 assault rifle for being hard to aim and having a too short of range. Many hope that the new set (yes, more than two) of guns will be much better. Many have seen the new assault rifle's awesome look already, and can't wait for this revolutionary fort to be released to the public.

Allies

RSF Ultimatum

...foggy view on the incident, as it was not shouted at the time of the event. This is because the decision of unallying them was done alongside UCR and EL, our new ally.

The ultimatum was not meant to hurt RSF, or rid them forever; It was meant to bring attention to the problems and quarrels RSF was facing internally, as well as externally. It's goal was to push fruitbox to do what was best in order for RSF to hit its fullest potential - whether

Alliance With EL

As F.E.A.R. says goodbye for now to RSF, we gladly open our arms for a new alliance with Electro Legion - known as EL. EL has been an up and down clan recently with it's leadership and status. While many flaws that could occur was introduced from intelligence operations and the meeting, we've decided to give it a shot. EL is trying its best to get out there in the clan world more and more, and become something more well known and powerful. From Maladen to Unclear, that be handing over the clan or fixing it. After the release of the forum and the Director of External Affairs agreement, a re-alliance was supposed to occur a week later. RSF never got around to it, mainly because the HCOM was waiting on a new leader to take the spot. F.E.A.R and RSF has had a long and fun history together, but until RSF can sort its problems, it's goodbye for now.

what can be expected next with Frostzelik leading the clan? The answer is not clear to anyone. What the Department of External Affairs does say is that at any time, the alliance can be terminated, but EL at least deserves a shot. A leap of faith has been taken with this alliance. F.E.A.R. can only hope to see EL thrive, and if this happens, they will benefit us in the long run as well.

ROBLOXia

Ally V. Ally

Not so long ago this month, C&G came to see a massive war declaration between four of the most significant and well known clans out there. Directly afterwards of the new alliance between Vortex Security and Soticle Forces, they declared war together on the alliance of the United Clan of Roblox and The Robloxian Army. At first, massive fights broke out as TRA gave its first statement (later on being revoked). King and his HCOM declined the war stating they don't war clans under 2,500 people.

Duck Story

Rumors swirl! As summer quickly approaches, tension has intensified in the Clans and Guilds sub-forum as well as in the entire clan world. It's an impending tempest; a storm large in historical proportions. A mega-Summer war to re-ignite the clan world has been rumored to be planned between many significant and politically influential clans in the clan world. While there has been no official indication about this outside back room discussions with allies of our own and allies abroad, it is certain to cause tension

For a couple days, bickering on the subject swept the forums, as members from all sides took shots at each other. After many negotiations and agreements, TRA and UCR now accept the war with new war terms. The war begins on May 25, at 2 PM EST/7 PM GMT. We ask that anyone representing F.E.A.R does not take sides between our allies as long as they are representing Venezia. Good luck to both sides!

leading us straight into June and July. Who will it be? FEAR + co. versus RAT and co.? FC vs VAK? VOID versus SF? No matter who it is, the summer of 2015 is sure to start with a bang. With the correct planning, the war could be brimming with rewards. If FEAR finds itself a part of it, it could potentially give us experience you can only find on the battlefield, outside of the training facilities. If not, it'll certainly be a fun watch if you don't jump in yourself as a mercenary!

Veteran of the Month

Billydodo13

Billydodo13 has shown a lot of loyalty over the last few months. For one, he's built some great things for ATC. Secondly, he knows when to be mature and can be a great leader. Finally, he has an opinion. He's not afraid to voice his thought, and always has valid reasoning to back them up.

Major Promotions

- Bakugan11 was promoted from Colonel to General
- Bieq was promoted from Officer to Colonel
- Dertixz was promoted from Officer to Colonel
- Nacawesome was promoted from Officer to Colonel
- RobloxSpartacus was promoted from Officer to Colonel
- W1nt3rz was promoted from Major to Officer

Shoutouts

Shoutouts are here to congratulate FEAR members on their achievements outside of the clan. Have an achievement or want to call someone out? PM ShoutoutCentral!

Congrats to Sergeant Flaminquo for receiving Colonel, a High Ranking position in UAF, for the second time! It's amazing that she can be active in both clans and take on so much responsibility!

Recently, one FEAR member, Billydodo13, and one ATC scripiter, Rhyles, have been working on their own project. The name as of now is Impulse, and they plan to make it a front-page FPS gun game! Looking good!

It seems one of our own has been busy! On top of being a FEAR Major, Lord Larceny has carried his varsity lacrosse team all the way to the finals while still maintaining all A's on his report card at school!

Private j611 has received second in command of another clan he is in, The Sith Order! Congratulations on the accomplishment, and we hope that the clan thrives with you in power!
