Newsletter: The Next Generation

The Venezian Insider has become an extremely successful part of FEAR's Community Affairs. Four in-depth articles have been released, and positive feedback has come from not only from our clan, but the rest of the clan world. The current format for the newsletter was never built to last forever, though. It was put together to test the concept of an organized, aesthetically pleasing way to keep the members of FEAR informed on what is happening both inside and outside of the clan. Now that this success is evident, the idea...

Monthly Meeting Review

Another month has brought about another Community Assembly. Community Assemblies are mass gatherings in FEAR where HRs talk about the future of FEAR and what is available to members in the clan. This month's meeting had less topics than past meetings, but it was still very important to the future of the clan. If the meeting was to be summarized into one word, it would be war. War is something FEAR has...

...craved for a long time now, and it seems that a war is what FEAR will get very soon. The first speakers during the Community Assembly were Colonel nacawesome and General Sickthunderkiller. They talked about the war FEAR will soon be experiencing. About a month ago, FEAR went to war with Lortex Security. We won it 25-1 with little problem, but LS's base is extremely fair and their activity is very low compared to other superclans. This time, however, the war will not be so easy. It will be a 2v2 war fought alongside an ally and against two formidable foes. Due to the clan's strong External Affairs and activity, however, the high command is confident that the war will be won. In addition, many new projects are coming down the pipeline which will bolster activity even farther. While it's not guaranteed that these projects will be finished by the end of the war, activity gained during wartime will carry over to what many are hoping to be the next golden era of FEAR. Sick and nac also asked trainers to focus on defensive and raid trainings (or real raids) in order to prepare for the upcoming war. Following Sick and nac was General StrongXV. Strong talked about the Captain and Major reforms which have occurred this month. Around three hundred Captains were demoted and around forty Majors were demoted. Periodic rank reforms are necessary to the clans, and it is nothing new to FEAR. Both ranks are fairly easy to obtain, so members who are still active and have been demoted should have little problem making their way back up to their rank. Finally, Sick and nac came back up in order to speak about the department of war. Another benefit to the upcoming war with FEAR is a strong, new department. It's much different than in the past, and many positions need filled. If you're interested in joining the war department, read the guide and send an application in! The newsletter crew hopes by that the next article we will be writing about a victory for FEAR. See you soon!

...is being taken to the next level in volume two. While the final contents are still being finalized, the layout and deployment will be much more futuristic than in volume one. First of all, an entire new design has been made. It was rebuilt to retain its simplicity to read, which is something that some clans fail to achieve when writing, while creating a much more aesthetically pleasing backdrop (early rendering shown on page one). The website the newsletter is usually posted on, however, will be either removed due to its redundancy or used only to show archived versions of it. The biggest change, however, may be the way the newsletter is shown to the public. Alongside the release of FEAR's database will be an ingame version of the newsletter. While the database format is unclear, FEAR members may be able to simply click a button and read the newsletter in the middle of patrolling Alinaor II or waiting in between rounds of training. Many other additions are coming to the newsletter, but those will be revealed early October when it is released.

Captain Reform

Every once in a while, ranks become bloated. Instead of being filled with active members, they fill up with people who have either left the site or don't spend their time in FEAR anymore. This is at the fault of nobody, however. People are not obligated to this site, and have the freedom to choose to play wherever they have fun. At the same time, however, they are not obligated to their rank. It's been close to a year since the rank of Captain has been reformed, and while the amount of active members has not wavered, the amount of members at the rank skyrocketed to close to four hundred members. The rank of Captain should not have more members than the rank of Lieutenant. If any of those inactive members decided to come back, they may not have the skills necessary for the rank in an ever-changing clan. Because of this, the high command voted to reform the rank. At the time of publishing, there are just under eighty Captains. The rank of Major has also been reformed in order to restore the number balance between ranks.

Divisions

A New Direction

FEAR's Covert Operations division has focused on many different areas of the clan in the past. In 2013 it had a strong focus on infiltration under zach2222, and in early 2015 it had a strong focus on combat abilities, led by Johnsnic333. Some recent debate has led to the division being passed back to zach this month. With John stepping down from the division, a new guide with a new direction for the clan has been released. Contrary to the previous focus on combat, this guide has a stronger focus on intel and infiltration outside of ROBLOX places. There is still a part of FCO which is combatant focused, but the division seems to be taking a broader and more organized approach. With FEAR's Intelligence Department shut down, FCO is the closest division to it's replacement. The newsletter crew thanks John for his service to the division and wishes zach the best of luck with leading it!

Raising Leaders

The FEAR Military Academy is tasked with raising the leaders of FEAR. While the division has done all it can and will continue to improve with time, FEAR's Honors Division has attempted to aid in raising the next generation of FEAR. HD is filled with experienced veterans of FEAR, and this experience should not be wasted. In order to help pass down this knowledge, members of HD are being tasked with mentoring members of FEAR between the rank of Recruit and Major. Similar systems have been attempted in the past, but regular checkups will be had in order to watch growth. This gives the program more hope than in the past. There are general benchmarks mentors will guide members though, but mentors have the freedom to accomplish this as they choose. The newsletter crew wishes HD the best of luck in this endeavour!

Technology

A New System

FEAR has an incredible dev team. Billydodo13 and SHADOW are two of the best builders on ROBLOX, SHADOW is an incredible GUI designer, and a variety of scripters have made some incredibly complex products. One thing that has plagued ATC, however, is completion. A lot of projects have been left unfinished, many relatively close to being done. This will hopefully soon change, however, with an upcoming overhaul of technology.

Three big projects are nearing completion in FEAR: A database, training facility, and base. The database is planned to do more than any other database in the clan world. With the switch to a point system, members won't have to rely on trainings to rank up. KDRs, defending, and activity will all be ways of gaining points in this upcoming system. The database will also let members check their history of the clan and read the newsletter. Moving gears, not much is known about the new training facility, Disciplinia II. It is currently on wonuf's profile, however how it will run is shrouded in mystery. All that is known is that it will be heavily integrated with the database and a custom, more secure admin will be used. Finally, Azura will be coming out. Azura will also be heavily integrated with the database, giving members points for kills, patrolling for certain amounts of time, etc. Members will not be able to farm points by simply standing at the fort afk. Azura will not be as advanced as Alianor III, but will be smooth and original.

While clans are improving day by day and wars rage on, fun should not be forgotten. Not long ago, TRA and WIJ engaged in a "raids war". It can be thought of like a relay race in the olympics.. The two clans decided to have a friendly and fun competition: the objective being who can get the 40 wins on the clans listed first. However, you can surely expect there was some competition. The event was quite unique. It wasn't a war or a training. It was two allies having a fun and competitive time. In the end, TRA announced their victory against WIJ. DrDrRoblox, commander of TRA, showed his pride in multiple statements. Such include ourselves eve not, when he states he hasn't seen such activity from TRA since the FEAR war of 2013. Who knows, maybe we can be seeing such a fun event with an ally sometime in the near by future.

UCR & Killer...v2

With his second term as President of the United Clan of Roblox (UCR) just beginning, Killer6199 has already gone to work. With the new President already reform in entire areas of the clan- one reformation impacted us especially. The President removed all of UCR's allies besides TRA- taking us out of the equation. Although this comes as bad news to us, leaders do what they feel will benefit their clans in the long run. Killer did what he felt was needed, and the newsletter crew and External Affairs Department respects that. However, with the loss of one ally, will come the arrival of a new and powerful one in the future. The Department of External Affairs assures that. And who knows, maybe someday we'll again be fighting on the same battlefield with UCR.

Don't let the frost bite!

The war has just begun! Not long ago, Frost Clan declared war on one of our own allies, Vortex Security. With VS quickly accepting the declaration and terms agreed on, the war began! VS held its first war rally, rallying 70 people! However, many people have shown their doubts to VS winning, especially with FC's base and their criticised weapon of choice: the frost bow. Even with such difficulties, VS deserves respect. It was one of those rare war declarations where it gets declared, accepted, and quickly worked out. Other clans FC have declared war on, RAT for example, have had their quarrels with the clan when it came to negotiation. It seems bravery wasn't enough for Vortex Security to overtake the undefeated Frost Clan, however. Vortex Security was quickly pushed onto defense, and Frost Clan eventually won the war 20-0. The crew congratulates VS on their bravery and activity, along with Frost Clan on their victory.

The Cobras Are Back?

For quite some time, John's Cobras (JC) has been in a major decline. The clan itself has been dying, but as of recently, we've seen a new era emerge in the clan. Loyalists from the previous clan's generation went on to make their very own JC. The clan has shown strong integrity, and infrastructure. They get about 20 or so members to daily events, and have even raided A2 multiple times. Of course, the original group still stands with about 60,000 members. The new group claims that the original JC was taken over by greed, thus ruining it. Their mission statement is resurrecting the once powerful clan. I must say, the "loyalists" showed their care and how important JC is to them. The fact that they were motivated to go on and create a new group for the community to strive on and to keep the clan name alive. Let's see what this newly formed group has in store for the clan community.

Veteran of the Month

Georgek22

Major Georgek22 is not new to the clan in any way. He has years of experience behind him, but has recently come back to the clan in order to help it as much as he can. He's done just that. His activity has led to many quality trainings and many winning defenses at Alianor II. His kind and helping character has helped others rise beside him. Thank you for your service George!

Shoutouts

Shoutouts are here to congratulate FEAR members on their achievements outside of the clan. Have an achievement or want to call someone out? PM ShoutoutCentral!

Ex-FEAR Major Xyritix hiked up the highest mountain in England! Over the two day trek filled with 150+ MPH winds the freezing temperatures was to raise money for the As-Suffa Homeless Outreach, and over $4000 was raised through the trip! What you did was amazing Xyritix, and a lot of struggling families have you to thank.

Recruit zachattack90855 has recently acquired a union of groups on ROBLOX named the "Union Militia." His experience as being a high rank in other clans has led to his position in UM. Congratulations on your accomplishment, zachattack!

Captain thediamondlava has recently adopted nine dogs found on the streets. Anyone who owns dogs know how expensive and time-consuming it is, but this Captain has adopted nine of them! He is currently finding loving forever-homes for them all.

Scilz is an older member of FEAR, most known for his skill as an RCLer. He's been a vital part of FEAR's Replica Forces, and has recently been considered a top 15 RCLer throughout C&G rankings. Well done showing your skills, scilz!
