War: Here it Comes, There it Goes

It's not often that FEAR goes to war.

The last war FEAR fought in was against Robloxian Military back in February. We won that war flawlessly, and we almost did the same this month as well. In the eight day war against Lortex Security, FEAR managed to rack up 25 wins required to declare victory. LS, on the other hand, only managed to get one win. Lortex Security should still be respected, though. They walked into a war they knew they couldn't win. They didn't try to change any war terms, they never refused to defend, and their leader, Flavoured, even defended FEAR on the forums as well. Many wars on ROBLOX...

Monthly Meeting Review

This month's Community Assembly brought about a lot of divisional updates and more hype for the future. Six different people spoke talking about the state of the clan and where we're heading in the future. The first to speak was SONICTHEHEDGEHOGXX himself. He talked about new uniforms FEAR has received, and said that more is coming down the...

pipeline. Both FEAR Replica Forces and Covert Ops will be receiving new uniforms. If anything can be predicted by what we've already seen, it's going to look incredible. Next, Blandue stepped up alongside SONIC and they both congratulated Kyrizo for winning the clan wide RCL tournament and EnterScreenName for placing second. After a strong congratulations from everyone in the room, StrongXV stepped up representing FMA. He talked about the changes which have taken place to the division this month. This includes the addition of a multiple choice test, a few limitations on how points can be earned, and a new grading system for supervisors. The importance of the success of FMA was emphasized because it contains all of the future leaders of FEAR. If FMA fails, there will be no competent high command when the current generation retires. After Strong talked about FMA, zach2222 came up and talked about RF. He talked about what RF has accomplished in the months he has lead it, and ended with his resignation from the division. Shortly after the meeting, ChloeDowning08 made her resignation. Zach is confident, however, that RF will continue to prosper with it's current systems and new leader, Aceslayer13. To lighten the mellow mood, however, Ace then came up to speak about the Warfare Department. He congratulated FEAR on their 25-1 victory over Lortex Security, and then let the clan in on some info about the second part of the conquest. The only two pieces of information given so far was that it would be a much more challenging war and that it will most likely be a 2v2 war. After giving this very interesting piece of insight, DoctorCherryTop finished off the news portion of the meeting by talking about the Department of Construction. He says that the division, tasked with working alongside ATC to create tech for FEAR, is recruiting members. The meeting itself was finished off with an informative Q&A one on one with the members of FEAR and the high ranks who can answer the query.

today end with both sides flaming the other to the point where the fun is taken out of the war. The newsletter crew would like to give props to both FEAR and LS for keeping the war going smoothly so that both sides can enjoy themselves. A celebration was scheduled for the first of August where FEAR and many of our allies went on a raiding campaign with over 150 members. Following this campaign was a party to celebrate our victory and fun FEAR saturday occurred that night.

It's also rumored that another war will occur soon to push the limits of the Venezian military. This is shown through the two part conquest talked about in the original LS declaration of war. The newsletter crew would like to thank LS for a fun war, and congratulate FEAR on its swift victory. We can only hope that a similar story will be told in the second part of this conquest.

Court's Courtship?

One retired division of FEAR was the FEAR Supreme Court. Originally owned by MASTERMATT, it was something that gave low ranks a little more say in the clan. After passing through irotheworld, however, a member named Luccifer took the court to the next level, creating a more organized and complex system. While HCOM sat by while that new court was formed, the result was not what they hoped for. A few controversial cases led to the closure of the division. Luccifer is still fighting for a court system in FEAR, and he is being very careful not to break FEAR rules. Currently, Luccifer has raised 84 signatures petitioning for the return of a court system for FEAR, and he has started an unofficial summer program for FEAR where 50 FEAR members are going through mock trials and debates to prove to HCOM that the court is plausible. The idea of a court is more appealing to low ranks than high ranks, but time will tell if Luccifer's push is a success.

Divisions

A Step Towards Maturity

FEAR's Replica Forces includes the most elite members of FEAR in terms of combat. They've won countless scrimmages against other clans, got into the finals in the official RCL tournament this past year, and has saved countless defenses for the clan. One criticism of the division, however, is that some of the members overstep their bounds in events or act extremely immature. A common defense to this is that this is mild compared to other clan elites, but the general consensus is that FEAR should stick to their own standards, and RF is lacking. The leaders of RF are onboard with this statement. Harsher punishments are being dealt than previously, maturity is becoming a vital part of RF trainings, and issues shown in trainings are being dealt with more reliably. Changes are already apparent in trainings, and the newsletter crew is proud of what this division has accomplished.

-Story by Beloxy

Major Changes

A lot of changes have come to FEAR's Replica Forces over the course of the month. While ethics within the division has changed, so has leadership. Within two days, both the director, zach2222, and the sword platoon leader, ChloeDowning08, have stepped down. Chloe retired from FEAR as a whole while zach just stepped down as the director of RF. At the moment, Aceslayer13 has been appointed the director of RF, although this is not necessarily a permanent position. If SONIC finds a capable candidate to take over from Ace, it's extremely likely that they will switch positions so Ace can focus solely on the Warfare Department. Replacing Chloe as the SF platoon leader is iMcm99. The newsletter crew thanks zach and Chloe for all their work, and we wish RF the best of luck in new hands!

Alianor Updates!

F.E.A.R. Fort Alianor Remastered was shut down for a period of a few weeks for updates. The fort was deemed unsuitable until certain updates were made. These updates include glitch fixes, structures, scripts, and lastly, revamped terrain and trees. One particular change which FEAR is accepting with open arms is a path which bypasses the first floor of the building containing the terminal. Previously, both FEAR and raiders found it easy to prevent the opposing team from taking the terminal simply by camping on the balcony of the first floor. With the addition of this new entrance, however, the enemy will need to be a lot more strategic. Currently, however, the entrance is FEAR only. Many believe that this gives FEAR an unfair advantage. Whether or not this will be changed in the future is unclear.

If you see any issues with the fort, you're encouraged to contact a High Command member or an Armacham Technology Corporation member. SHADOWTHEHEDGEHOGXX and the rest of ATC hopes that you enjoy the new updates and defending much, much more.

“RAA OR DIE”

Synoan, the six year leader of R.A.A., claimed ownership from dwd1106 in 2009. From there, he got the so called “war clan” into the power clan we know it as today. Synoan was a powerful leader who only lost one war in his six year career. Anyone who stood in front of him was pushed aside and forgotten. He had many loyal high ranks beside him such as Surgo, awesomeness110, zac4545, peathis, spectrial, sillylego, and artia. Many of these people have been beside him since the start of R.A.A. and will remain with R.A.A. until they quit ROBLOX. With Synoan leaving roblox, this will be a great loss to the clan community, losing his knowledge and strength as a leader. With his retirement, a new era of R.A.A. has appeared led by John Cena since none of this is true. “RAA OR DIE”

A New Era for an Old Clan

Anyone who follows the United Clan of ROBLOX knows that UCR is in better shape right now than in recent memory. The reason the clan is in such good shape is due to Killer6199's strong leadership. Killer increased UCR activity 5 fold. Killer was also very adamant about keeping UCR at war in order to keep this activity level. Sadly, due to some real life issues, Killer had to give up his presidency and hand off the clan to its new leader: Rapster2. While Killer seems extremely confident in Rapster's leadership abilities, the overall mood of this change is mixed. It seems that Rapster is off to a running start, however. Hosting a clan-wide meeting, Rapster went over a new HCOM structure. A few people were moved around due to this. In addition, Rapster promises new tech from UCR including a new fort, training facility, and hangout. The newsletter crew wishes Rapster and UCR good luck in their future endeavours!

The Great Loss

Recently, the clan community opened up C&G to see one of the biggest losses to this community: Arcadia. TGI has had a long history in our community, proving its strength throughout many wars. FEAR even went to war with them in the past. The clan surely has had it's highs and lows, but most recently, it was at it's all time low. The current leader, Tainteddark, posted a forum saying he was shutting down The Grand Imperium for it's best. Many say TGI could've been repaired and lashed out. Tainte says, “it is a better alternative than watching the group decay into a pit of failure and disappointment.” Sure, we all at least hate one clan. There will always be people that hate the clan you're loyal to. Claims are made blindly at times, but when a clan like TGI is gone forever, those past thoughts will contradict and the community will feel the loss of it's presence. Arcadia will forever be missed.

War of Words

Two great clans went to war this month: UAF and VAK. While hopes were high at first, the war eventually fell apart with neither side winning. VAK is known for being hard negotiators, but an agreement was reached pretty fast at first. All that had to happen was for a few bugs to be sorted out on the Vaktovian side. It took a few weeks, but the war eventually began. For four hours, VAK attacked first, winning two out of four servers. UAF then went on the offensive, winning three. The war began to fall apart when VAK declined to follow UAF when they server-hopped. While there was no rule against this strategy, Vaktus himself refused to follow UAF's men. In retaliation, UAF shut down three servers full of VAK who were close to changing the warscore to 5-3. Both sides called a ceasefire in order to solve the conflict, and both sides would never see themselves on the battlefield as the war of words ramped up. Several ultimatums were called to find a compromise, but no conclusion was reached.

Veteran of the Month

Robbe12345

Robbe12345 has been an incredible asset to FEAR this past month. Not only has been the main supervisor for upcoming Officer in FMA after just receiving the rank himself, but he has been a valuable MP member along with participating in numerous trainings, raids, and defenses. Thank you for all you do Rob, the newsletter crew salutes you!

Shoutouts

Shoutouts are here to congratulate FEAR members on their achievements outside of the clan. Have an achievement or want to call someone out? PM ShoutoutCentral!

Specialist homerunman1297 has received an executive board position in the largest NFL group on ROBLOX! Imagine how many touchdowns it took to accomplish that!

General Sickthunderkiller has arrived back from his trip to Europe! He traveled to many countries including Albania and Turkey, sending some beautiful pictures back to HCOM through skype! Welcome back Sick!

Ex-general TempusDominion is currently leading a successful superclan: Rebel Squad. Tempus' reign as commander seems to be a solidly positive situation for the clan, and we wish him good luck in the future with the clan!

One of the newsletter crew, Zenthial, is taking a few weeks leave to visit Maine! The rest of the crew hopes he enjoys his time and can't wait to have him back with us in the future. Have fun Zen!
